

Religious Education

Week of Sunday, September 17th

Theme of the month:
Welcome

Reading

Change Assured

*This world it is a pleasant place
Where none need vainly yearn.
You get precisely what you want
If you will wait your turn.
For if you like not ice and snow
And winter's prowling storm,
You need but wait till summer time
When it will be too warm.*

By: Anonymous

Also check out...

Storytime

This week's story -
The Cow Who Climbed A Tree

By: Gemma Merino

Video (22min): Rafting the most polluted river in Australia - Watch backyard adventurer Beau Miles explore a landscape drastically changed by humans as he changes his approach to challenging himself outdoors.

Podcast (35min): She Sails the Seas Without Maps and Compasses - Learn about the traditional Polynesian navigation methods of wayfinding and meet National Geographic Explorer Lehua Kamalu, the first woman to captin a long-distance canoe voyage.

Questions for Discussion

How do you welcome change?
What do you like about change?
What is challenging about change?
What is something that was unexpected or surprised you recently?

Podcast (43min): Finding Joy in the Unknown - Listen to Irish teenage author, naturalist, and conservationist Dara McAnulty talk about the importance of joy and how art can be activism.